"My research focuses on understanding how participation in sport and physical activity can be a growth experience for children and adolescents, including the role coaches, parents, and peers play in shaping youths’ motivational processes and life skill development. The goal of my work is to inform how physical activity contexts can be structured to enhance young participants’ psychosocial and behavioral outcomes. Drawing from the positive youth development through physical activity framework, I have conducted recent studies on effective coaching behaviors, character development, and evaluation of a physical-activity based youth development program."

GCOE’s Undergraduate Pathways into Teaching Educator preparation is a university-wide responsibility.

- Approved Subject Matter Programs increase accessibility into Credential Programs by waiving the CSET exam.

- Minors in Education and Special Education introduce undergrads to Credential Programs.

- The Communicative Disorders BA and Credential resulted in 32 new Speech Language Pathology teachers last year.

- The IBEST program – Integrated Bilingual Educators for Social Transformation – will create a clear pathway from Liberal Studies to Elementary teaching.

- Our TEACH Center’s doors are open to any undergrads seeking advice.
GCOE’s Long-standing Doctoral Programs

- Joint Ph.D. in Special Education with UC Berkeley is celebrating its 50th year
  - 20 candidates from SFSU currently enrolled
  - Addressing a strong national need for IHE faculty

- Ed.D. in Education Leadership is celebrating 10 full years as an independent doctoral program
  - Over 70 candidates currently enrolled
  - 3-year cohorted program structured for working professionals
  - Providing leaders for local and regional districts and community colleges
